9:20am Welcome and Introductory Remarks

9:30am "Keynote: Overview of Stroke": Olajide Williams, MD
Learning Objectives: Upon completion, participants will be able to:
1. Distinguish common stroke subtypes;
2. Learn about basic stroke epidemiology, including risk factors, and racial-ethnic stroke disparities;
3. Learn about current treatments for the most common forms of stroke, including endovascular stroke, and the importance of stroke preparedness; and
4. Learn about the organization of systems of care.

10:45am "Diagnosing Stroke": Payal Sud, MD, FACEP
Learning Objectives: Upon completion, participants will be able to:
1. Understand the roles of non-contrast CT and CT angiography in acute strokes;
2. Understand the causes and types of stroke;
3. Recognize the common signs and symptoms of a stroke and stroke mimics; and
4. Understand the timely recognition and management of strokes.

11:30am "Stroke Prevention: Nutrition and Lifestyle": Sally S. Wong, PhD, RD, CDN, FAHA
Learning Objectives: Upon completion, participants will be able to:
1. Understand the new AHA/ACC blood pressure guidelines and why high blood pressure is a silent killer;
2. Review the risk factors that can raise blood pressure;
3. Know the benefits of a “heart-healthy diet” in managing blood pressure, and how to get quality nutrition from healthy food sources; and
4. Learn about lifestyle choices that can reduce the risk of heart disease and stroke.

12:30pm Lunch Break

1:30pm "Pharmacology": William Heuser, PharmD, MS, EMT-CC
Learning Objectives: Upon completion, participants will be able to:
1. Describe the pharmacologic treatment modalities in the management of acute ischemic stroke and hemorrhagic stroke;
2. Review the pharmacologic mechanism of action of thrombolytics and their unique role in salvaging neurons within the ischemic penumbra;
3. Review the current literature surrounding the use of thrombolytics (reperfusion therapy) and antiplatelets in the treatment of acute ischemic stroke;
4. Evaluate and compare the effectiveness and safety profiles of both alteplase and tenecteplase for reperfusion therapy in the treatment of acute ischemic stroke; and
5. Discuss investigational methods of reperfusion for acute ischemic stroke, including intra-arterial infusions of thrombolytic agents, combined intravenous and intra-arterial thrombolysis, and GPIIb/IIIa antagonists.

2:30pm "Rehab After Stroke": Jonathan Sukumar, MD
Learning Objectives: Upon completion, participants will be able to:
1. Understand the goals of acute inpatient rehabilitation for stroke patients;
2. Describe the role of rehabilitation physicians in acute stroke rehabilitation;
3. Compare and contrast the role of the disciplines of the therapy team (physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech therapists) in executing a rehabilitation plan of care.

3:15pm "Psychiatric Aspects of Stroke": Jordan Klesmer, MD
Learning Objectives: Upon completion, participants will be able to:
1. Understand the psychiatric consequences of strokes, including their prevalence and risk factors;
2. Learn about the biological and psychosocial etiologies of post-stroke depression; and
3. Learn about the pharmacologic and psychosocial treatments of post-stroke psychiatric disorders.
